

CUBA APPEALS TO UNCLE SAM FOR ARMS

DEMOCRATS FACE RELIGIOUS ISSUE AND PROHIBITION

UNEXPECTED STRENGTH OF AL SMITH DEVELOPS COMPLICATIONS.
BOOM IS SERIOUS

Washington.—The certainty that President Coolidge will be nominated for a second term has turned political discussion here almost entirely to the democratic race interest, which in the last few days has become intensified through the activities of those favoring Gov. Al Smith of New York.

This speech of Senator Charles McNary, a Republican of Ohio, challenging the democrats to nominate McAdoo and warning them that the campaign would turn on the fact that McAdoo was Doherty's lawyer, has furnished a surprise. Hitherto the democrats have seemed to want McAdoo nominated because they thought he was easiest to defeat. They did not interrogate him extensively when he was before a senate investigating committee as they hoped to do more interesting if he

PHYSICIAN IS ACCUSED BY DYING NURSE

Milwaukee.—Harriet Walske, 29, a nurse at the Willowbrook hospital, Kenosha, died today at a local hospital. Before her death the woman named a physician who had performed an illegal operation, she said, but expired before she gave the name of the man whom she declared was responsible for her plight.

The woman had been a patient at the hospital for 10 days, and advised authorities if her condition became hopeless she would give them the information they desired.

District Attorney George Shugart, of Milwaukee county, and District Attorney Morris Barnett, of Kenosha county, took the woman's story.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Llewellyn Pfanck, representing the University of Minnesota, won first place in the 24th annual north oratorical league contest at the University of Michigan here last night. His subject was "The Control of Progress."

Alfred Hanson of Northwestern, the only woman contestant, was given second and Morris Sostrin, University of Illinois, third.

Rice Lake.—Six persons believed to be from St. Louis were seriously injured, two probably fatally, when the automobile truck they were riding in crossed tracks at Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railway passenger train near Alhambra. The injured, who suffered fractured skulls, are Mr. and Mrs. John Costello and their four children. Mrs. Costello is closely allied with Talu, who slight chance for recovery, it was said.

ST. PAUL BANK CLOSES DOORS

St. Paul.—The Capital Trust and Savings bank of St. Paul, with deposits of $5,000,000, was ordered closed today by J. A. Voegel, state superintendent of banks announced. Frozen assets was the cause, Mr. Voegel said. The bank, which has a capital of $1,000,000, is closely allied with the Capital National bank here. It was organized in December, 1920.

You Can't Get 65 Drivers on One Truck!

And so Hantley & Murphy, of Janesville, had to say "Sorry" to sixty-four of the applicants who answered their "Help Wanted" ad in the Gazette.

And all this action came from a little two-line ad.

"We had at least 65 calls the day the ad appeared, and could have gotten as many drivers," they say. "We are greatly pleased with results."

If you want help—any kind of help—call 2500 and let a Gazette ad find it for you.

IT'S ALWAYS "MOTHERS' DAY"

Argentine Facing Nationwide Strike

Buenos Aires.—President Lezama was faced today with the alternative of postponing application of the new law of collective bargaining, unique probably in the history of any country, for the reason that it is virtually a common protest from both capital and labor against what it terms an absurd piece of legislation. The law provides for the deduction of five percent from salaries, to be applied to a pension fund, the employers contributing a like amount.

Strikes and lockouts already have begun in various cities, and in Rosario several persons are reported to have been wounded in a clash between strikers and police.

A city-wide strike is scheduled to begin in Buenos Aires today, while a general closing down by the employers is fixed for Monday, with the likelihood that it will continue unless the government yields.

Pension Bill Is Vetoed; Economy

Washington.—President Coolidge today vetoed the Bursum omnibus pension bill. The veto was based on the ground that the measure would entail an unwarranted drain on the treasury.

Senator Bursum, republican, New Mexico, author of the bill, announced that an early effort would be made to pass the measure over the veto.

He said he thought there would be enough votes in both the senate and the house.

OPEN TAX RETURNS VOTED IN SENATE

Washington.—Opening of tax returns to public inspection was voted today by the senate. An amendment to the revenue bill authorizing examination of the returns under "rules governing inspection of public documents generally" was adopted, 45 to 27.

Approval also was given an amendment to make public claims for abatements or refunds of taxes and decisions of courts.

The proposal was bitterly fought by republican organization leaders who were willing, however, to agree to inspection of the returns by certain professional committees, as voted by the house and approved by the finance committee.

HURLEY MAN FOUND DEAD

BLAINE THREATENS EXECUTIVE QUIZ ON STAUDENMAYER

DEMANDS INFORMATION IN LETTER TO NEW CHAIRMAN.
MOVE IS SCORED

Madison.—Executive review of the removal of Senator George Staudenmayer as chairman of the special legislative highway committee was threatened by Governor Blaine in a telegram to Oscar H. Morris, newly elected chairman of the committee today.

The governor declared in his telegram that from information available, "executive summary action appears necessary." The review is ordered within a few days, it was said. The governor asked the new committee chairman for information regarding the removal of Staudenmayer.

In addition to indicating that executive review of the Staudenmayer affair will be ordered, the governor also threatened to reorganize those departments having highway administrative duties "if I cannot get cooperation from public bodies and officials." He further declared that the committee's action indicated that it was in cooperation with the state executive. The telegram in full follows:

"Your action in special legislative highway committee, indicating a failure to cooperate with the executive and is inimical to the public interests. With information available, executive summary action appears necessary. These are three administrative duties 'if I cannot get cooperation from public bodies and officials.' He further declared that the committee's action indicated that it was in cooperation with the state executive. The telegram in full follows:

"I protest the unnecessary increase in administering highway department and automobile license law and excessive costs for highway construction. If I cannot get cooperation from public bodies and officials to reduce these costs, I shall re-organize those departments having highway administrative duties so far as the law will permit re-organization and will appeal to the people for approval. Awaiting prompt reply.

"John J. Blaine, Governor."

FRENCH DON'T WANT JAP IN INDO-CHINA

Paris.—Quai d'Orsay denies that Gov. Gen. Merlin of Indo-China will visit Tokyo to offer Japanese immigration an outlet to the French colony.

Mr. Merlin is proceeding to Japan to lay the cornerstone for the French embassy there and to open negotiations for a new French consular post in the Japanese capital.

Indo-China's climate, dense population, and labor conditions are such as to preclude immigration with the Japanese overpopulation.

Dispatches from Hanoi, capital of the colony, blame the English press for attempting to start trouble at a time when the French government is having trouble with Japan over immigration by stating that France is welcoming the Japanese to its colonies.

MACHINE GUN UNIT, DELAVAN, IS CHANGED

Delavan.—Redesignation of Co. H, 125th regiment, Delavan, as Company I, of the 127th regiment, thereby changing it from a machine gun to a rifle company, has been made through order of the war department. Company H was disbanded at Racine, Wis., in 1918, and the Delavan company was organized three years ago as a machine gun unit and, despite the handicap of having no one in it who had technical training in a machine gun, it has obtained results which brought commendation.

SHOTS MISS U. W. COEDS

Madison.—Barbara Thompson and Jane Martin, Oshkosh, freshman students at the University of Wisconsin, narrowly escaped injury by the house of the conference room of the University of Wisconsin, which was being used by the two women sleeping in the building. The bullets tore down plaster and entered the room, but missed the women. The bullets were fired from the roof of the building.

Green Bay.—The Wisconsin Society of Gideons, who are holding a two-day convention here, presented the new Northland hotel today with 200 bibles. Other hotels in Green Bay will be replenished with an equal number making a total of 400 bibles to be left here before the close of the convention.

Comb Rock-Bound Coast of Bering Sea for Aviators

BELLEVILLE.—A party with dog teams will go today from Chignik, Alaska, to the north side of the Alaska peninsula, to search for the missing Erik J. Martin, missing globe flier, along the Bering sea.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

False Pass, Alaska.—As a result of information from natives scattered along the barren Alaskan peninsula, that they saw Major Frederick J. Martin, who has been missing since Wednesday morning, headed northeastward, in the direction of Chignik lakes and Bering sea, wireless calls were sent today to all vessels in that northern body of water, and additional parties have been organized to search the rocky Bering seashore.

COOLIDGE FAVORS BAN ON ASIATICS, MINUS JAP SLUR

Washington, D. C.—President Coolidge announced to White House callers late Friday his indorsement of a proposed bill to restrict immigration of Asiatics, which would be excluded from the United States.

Efforts to obtain alteration of the immigration bill's provision in this respect were explained by the president for the president as being designed merely to phrase the new policy in the most courteous manner possible.

White house officials were said to view as certain the eventual enactment of Asiatic exclusion into law and desired only that it give the least practicable offense to friendly nations.

Take Up Provisions.

Information still was withheld, however, both at the executive offices and at the capitol, as to what steps were contemplated by the state department or congress approved the suggestion that exclusion be deferred for a period after the other sections of the bill are in operation.

House and senate conveniences late Friday took up the Japanese provisions as the first of the major items in controversy, but when adjournment was taken after nearly five hours of unbroken discussion, Senate floor, republican of Pennsylvania, head of the senate delegation, would only say that "no decision had been reached."

Debate Continued.

The conference was understood to have determined informally, however, that its authority under the established procedure of both houses would extend to a recommendation for material changes in the exclusion clauses because of the senate amendment making them effective immediately, whereas the house bill set the operative date at July 1.

Presidents were quoted for the statement that this change was sufficient to throw the whole subject open.

Considerable doubt was expressed among senators whether the conference would accede to the president's program, and more doubt that it would be ratified by the senate if pre-presented in a report.

SERVICES HELD FOR ROY PLAYER

Body of Victim of Auto Accident Sent to Michigan Home.

With many of those who had worked by his side at the Fisher Body plant in Detroit, Michigan, funeral services for Roy Player, 26, were held at 10:30 a. m. Saturday, at the home of Roger Cunningham, 326 South Wisconsin street, with the Rev. Francis Serbell officiating. Roy Player died in the emergency hospital, Detroit, Wednesday night, of injuries sustained in an automobile accident on the Detroit river Tuesday night.

A song service was held by a quartet composed of Frank Doane, John Kohler, J. A. Steiner and Alfred Olsen. Mr. Olsen sang a special solo, "Where a Voice Is Calling," which Mr. Player had often mentioned he would like to sing at his funeral.

The body was to have been placed aboard a train here at 2:30 p. m. Saturday and shipped to his home at Owosso, Mich. Funeral services are to be held in the Methodist church at Owosso, Mich., Sunday morning, at 10:30 a. m. The train to Owosso will be at 11:30 a. m. The body will be in the train with Mr. Player's family.

Many beautiful floral pieces were sent. The Fisher Body company had a special representative come from Detroit to attend the services. He is T. V. Hinkley.

Announcement of the date of the funeral into Mr. Player's death will be made later by Governor Whaley. The body of six Janesville business men viewed the remains at the Whaley parlors Friday, and visited the scene of the accident near Yost's park.

Both G. N. Thomas and W. R. Walter, General Motors officials, were in the accident which proved fatal to Mr. Player, are confined in Mercy hospital recovering from injuries. Neither has injuries that are serious.

WASHINGTON WILL FORWARD DESIRED MUNITIONS, BELIEF

STATE OF VIOLENCE ON ISLAND CITED IN HAVANA PLEA.

HAVANA, Cuba.—Details of two engagements yesterday between Cuban forces of the government and rebel troops, and notice that he had other news which he "cannot give" were sent to the newspaper La Prensa today by its correspondent of Cienfuegos.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Washington.—The Cuban government, facing a "condition of violence" in the western provinces, caused by revolutionists' harassment to the Washington government for purchase of a considerable amount of arms and ammunition for the Cuban forces against the revolutionists.

The appeal today was approved by the state department and forwarded the embargo against arms and ammunition as well as the arms and ammunition asked for will be made available to Cuban authorities without delay.

In the absence of Secretary Weeks, war department officials declined to reveal the amount of munitions asked for but indicated there would be no trouble in filling the order from the supply of excess war supplies held by the army.

The transaction with Cuba differs in this respect from that recently negotiated between the Washington government and the Obregon government in Mexico, which was against the time Mexico asked for arms and ammunition and the decision in that case had to be taken by President Coolidge.

Can Supply Arms.

Under the proclamation issued yesterday by President Coolidge, establishing an embargo against shipment of war munitions to Cuba, specific provision was made by which it will be possible for the government to supply the Cuban forces with arms and at the same time rigidly enforce the embargo against unauthorized shipments of war materials to Cuba which might find their way into the hands of revolutionists.

NATIONALISTS OF GERMANY DEMAND PACT ABROGATION

OLD ARMY LEADERS ARE SUPPORTING TICKET IN CAMPAIGN.

Berlin.—The German nationalists in their campaign for a general election tomorrow are making a determined effort to bring about the abrogation of the treaty of Versailles and the restoration of the German empire. A score of old army leaders, among them Generals von Hutler and von Moltke, are supporting the nationalist ticket which demands abrogation of the treaty of Versailles as well as the other "humiliating and degrading demands from our former foes."

Center on Dawes Plan.

The middle parties—comprising the socialists, clericals, people's party and democrats—are carrying out a "policy of abstention" and are abstaining from attacking one another, centering the election issue on the adoption and execution of the Dawes report as a sure cure for Germany's financial ills.

Despite the striking political and economic divergences which normally separate the socialists from Stresemann's peoples party, the press campaign has been conducted in a spirit of unity. The four parties for the purpose of winning sufficient votes collectively to insure them the necessary majority in the next Reichstag for the so-called "coalition" party.

Definitely pledged in advance to a speedy settlement of the reparations problem on the basis of the Dawes report.

HAVANA, Cuba.—President Zayas left Havana today for Santa Clara province, where he will remain for several days, to see to it that the situation in that province is under control.

OUTBREAK HELD MUTE

WITHIN RANKS OF REBELS

Havana.—The outbreak in Santa Clara province, which was held in check by General Carlos Garcia-Velez, president of the Veterans and Patriots association, and appears to be the work of impatient members of the organization, could no longer be held in leash, it was declared today by the Mario Garcia-Velez, brother of General Velez.

It was declared by Sub-Secretary of Interior Delahorra that President Zayas, on his return from Santa Clara, would see to it that the situation in that province and that his departure for the scene of the anti-Zayas and anti-revolution outbreak did not mean that the situation was more serious.

WALSH URGES PROCEEDINGS IN CONTEMPT

Washington.—Contempt proceedings against Blair, one of the star witnesses in the senate investigation of the indictment of Senator Wheeler, were suggested in the senate today by Senator Walsh of Montana. Senator Wheeler's indictment was a result of a telegram from Coan denying he had made such a claim, but added:

"I have the statement of several newspapers that he did make such a statement."

MONOGRAM TENNIS BALL IS GERMAN NOVELTY

Berlin — The very latest of the season's novelties among tennis players are tennis balls bearing the monogram of the owner. The initials are made into the covering, which is of rubber, at the time of manufacture, and the cost is only slightly increased. These particular balls are attractive, and it is asserted by players that they will outlast the other balls by many games.

It has been proved, as the result of experiments, that the circulation of the blood is affected by music.

Rotarians Back from Appleton

Declaring that the meetings were most profitable, the Rotarians from Appleton, who returned from the annual convention of the 10th district of International Rotarians, which closed at Appleton on Wednesday, J. R. Johnson, the official delegate from the Janesville club, returned to this city on Friday with his wife. The Rev. Mr. Williamson stopped off at Waupun on the return, getting back here Friday morning.

An address by the Rev. Father Harris of the Episcopal church, Waupun, Mich., was said by Dr. Whitford to have been the outstanding talk of the two-day gathering. In the afternoon, the Rotarians took up world conditions, applying the ideals of Rotary as one way of making conditions better for men and nations better. Both the Rev. Mr. Williamson and Dr. Whitford praise Appleton for "outdoing itself in the way of entertaining the visitors." There were 1,052 considered delegates and over 200 women present. The convention took in the state of Wisconsin and northern Michigan. Conferences were held in the memorial chapel of Lawrence College.

Lawrence College, material, said Dr. Whitford, with its glow and during conference sessions. Appleton boys scouts, who are sponsored by the Rotary club, were on duty all during the day and in the evening, with information, running errands, meeting trains and doing other such helpful things. The scout regiment band, under the direction of Dr. Whitford, played a number of pieces in other affairs.

WAITERS PREFER PERCENT Geneva — Hotel and cafe guests will continue to pay 15 or 20 percent service charge on their bills. If the International Union of Waiters has its way, the union is decidedly opposed to returning to the old system of a small salary paid by the owner of the restaurant and voluntary tips on the part of the guests, as its members say they do far better under the percentage system.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette:

The Wednesday afternoon closing program seems to have reached a critical stage, seriously speaking. What's the matter?

The article signed by A. Groceriesman and A. Butcher states that the grocers and butchers put in the long-ago program. No one will disagree on that point—they do.

Then why not give the clerks a half day off a week then? They certainly deserve it if anyone does, but not only a half a week during the summer, but every week of the year. Who said it couldn't be done? Why not?

If I'm not misinformed, some of our grocers, at least two, are giving their clerks a half day every week of the year and have been for some time. Why can't other grocers do it as well as these merchants?

Why don't some of the clerks say, "We want it," and they will get it. If one or two grocers can, the rest can—no reason why not.

It is not a matter of the meeting, the retail division of the C. of C. and in regard to Wednesday closing, all business houses represented were in favor and decided to keep open during the summer months as to give maximum service to the people of the community and surrounding country.

I think you will find that the Rockford, Madison and Beloit merchants agreed as United States of America, on the street corners again with their hands in their pockets. Some of these men are past 50 years of age, yet the highest thought they seem to have is to be able to size up women as they pass by, and insult one now and then.

Women must take this kind of abuse from them all the summer season through, in the park as well as on the street corners. Oh, for an ordinance forbidding men to stand on any public street or street corner.

If I were a man and had lived in 18th century England, I would not have been so interested in something worth while. I would take a square look at myself and see what the nation would say.

Janesville has a wonderful public library, with all kinds of reading matter, plenty of heat and free space, even smoking chairs. It would be a terrible thing if the street corners butchers would make use of the library and begin life over again by growing brains enough to lift them above the occupation of staring at women at least. PRISCILLA.

Better Homes Week May 11-18

Miss Helen Henry, field organizer for the Better Homes in America campaign, was here Thursday in the interest of the local observance of Better Homes demonstration week, May 11-18. President Hoover heads the national council, which includes in its personnel several members of the cabinet and heads of a number of national organizations. Miss Helen Abbot, chief of the federal children's bureau, and Mrs. John Sheehan of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, are on the board of directors.

The division committee of the Janesville Federation of Women will promote the local observance of better homes week. The aim of the movement is to encourage the building of homes and the improvement of the physical aspects of the home environment, through artistic and practical home furnishings.

PACKARD SIX

Never has a fine car enjoyed such popularity and such a wide circle of ownership, as the Packard-Six.

The reason, of course, is that motor car owners, who had before its advent confined themselves to lesser cars, have learned that it actually costs them less to own a Packard.

CANNING FACTORY STARTS PLANTING

800 Acres of Peas to Be Raised —1,200 Acres Will Go for Corn.

Preparations for a heavy canning season are now being made by the Janesville Canning Company, with the planting of 800 acres of peas within a few miles radius of Janesville. More than 250 acres have already been planted and the remainder will be in by May 15. The company is planning a somewhat larger crop of peas than last year.

At the conclusion of the pea planting, the force of 10 workers who have charge of the farms, will start planting the corn which forms the other crop named at the local canning company. There will be 1,200 acres under cultivation altogether. The size of the project may be realized when the cost of peas alone represents an investment of $28,000.

No extensive alterations have been made in the plant here. Some repairs have been made on the machinery and everything is being put in shape for a heavy canning season. No cucumber will be manufactured at the local plant this year. Manager Fred J. Bell said Friday. The market is loaded each year and conditions are not favorable to the business, he said.

The Real Way to Peace

Peace does not come from resolutions adopted or signed nor yet by taking an oath not to fight. Peace comes from genuine desire to create situations that will be opposed to war in their very nature and which war could not remedy. The best exemplification of this is in the relations between Canada and the United States with 3,000 miles of boundary separating.

The greatest contribution to peace, next to the disarmament conference at Washington, is the Dawes report, the authors of which have just returned to America and are receiving the approval and thanks of a grateful nation.

The Dawes commission has arrived at the primary solution of the economic problems of Europe. Accepted by the nations most concerned and backed by a loan from the United States financial interests to Germany, it may be accepted as a fact that currencies will be stabilized and industrial and social conditions be so much bettered and so near normal, that the great masses will have no thought of war as a solvent of troubles. Europe is slow to take advantage of the Dawes report. But it appreciates the fact that it presents the only way out of the tremendous difficulties into which the continent has been plunged by either its own follies or through the inexorable laws of economics.

Peace will come from the actual operation of a system that will make for employment of labor, a market for products and the restoration of the purchasing power of the currency of all European nations. The ambitious monarchs have been eliminated from the scene, the war lords who made war for the mere fancy of fighting some one, are dead or exiled.

No one hunts for a back seat except in church.

A Thousand New Laws.

When the New York legislature adjourned the other day it had passed a thousand new laws for the "benefit of the state." Most of them will meet with approval of the governor and the statute books will be encumbered with a lot of new expense-making regulations and administration and enforcement will be just so much harder. About all of these laws will, sooner or later, demand a decision of the higher courts to see whether or they will stand up under the acid test of equity, mean what they say or are intended to provide for something entirely outside what the author had in mind. Then there is the question, more often decided as to whether, read in the light of basic principles of state government, the law is in harmony with the constitution.

Government has become a wearisome and cumbersome thing and society is a secondary consideration in law making. Simplicity has fled from legislative halls and complications are the rule. Remedies for all personal experiences are set up and whenever one cries that "We need a law for this or that," we immediately see that the law is passed. Judges of the courts at one time were given some use for a well developed ability to interpret the law and its foundations in principles of right and wrong, but now they are waited in with solid fortresses of statutes, unable to think except in terms set down in "Be it enacted."

Our own legislature could meet and adjourn in 60 days and pay expenses were it not for the mass of trash introduced to revise the world, crucify the flesh and confound the devil. It seems to be universal—this new law making.

We may have 80 per cent of the people against burglary but it is still safe to buy burglar alarms.

Only a Mental Deficient.

And now after all this excitement over the "Bobbied Hair Bandit," it becomes known that the girl is a mental defective, a woman, a lackwit, and quite sub-normal while her husband and accomplice is probably insane, coming from a family with a defined streak of mental disease. So perishes the romance of the "Bobbied Hair Bandit." Girls having a "complex" and feeling that they are misunderstood at home will take heart and come back to the dislapan with renewed hope that they are not merely physically defective and mentally diseased. Instead of being romantic and a psychological rebellion against a refusal to recognize the greater freedom which is taught in some of the universities and by mental hacks with distraught minds, these outbreaks are merely demonstrations of a feeble mentality. At least there is something decent in being "conventional" and it has its greater compensation in the end.

Japan cannot feel so badly about the United States. That nation wants to borrow $150,000,000 from us.

The Women at Buffalo.

Those who may have been skeptical of the power and ability of the women to carry on a convention without going to extremes or doing some hysterical thing which would make sport of the whole affair, are cited to the recent convention of Women Voters at Buffalo. Few, if any conventions, where the gavel has been handled by men for the direction of men delegates, have been so well conducted, or where there was such restraint against extremes or radicalism on the part

ON THE ROOF OF THE WORLD

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington.—Along about June 1 the news will be broadcast that man has at last stood on the roof of the world—or that another Everest expedition has failed of its purpose.

Mr. Everest, in Nepal, near the Tibet frontier, the highest peak of the Himalayas and the highest known mountain on earth, towers to the majestic height of 29,000 feet, or almost five and one-half miles. It is named for Sir George Everest, who was at one time surveyor general of India, but it has long been popularly known as the roof of the world.

For years its unconquered summit has been the goal of mountain climbers. Abruzzi, the Italian nobleman, made two or three trials and at one time held the record for height attained. Englishmen have been especially tenacious of the idea that there is no point to which their flag can not be carried.

The outstanding event in the field of exploration during the year 1923 was the attempt made in the spring by the joint expedition of the Royal Geographical Society and the British Alpine club to reach the summit of Everest. The expedition, led by Brig. Gen. the Honorable C. G. Bruce, was organized to carry on the work begun in 1921 by a similar expedition commanded by Col. C. Howard Bury, which attained an altitude of 23,000 feet. Three members of the Bruce party won their way to within 1,700 feet of the summit and earned the distinction of having attained the highest point upon which the foot of man has trod.

Now General Bruce is leading his second ascent upon the Himalayan heights, his party including several men who accompanied him two years ago, and is reported already to have passed Phari Dongri, 14,400 feet above the sea level. This is the only period of the year in which it is possible to climb Mt. Everest, and there remain but four or five weeks in which the attempt can be made. When the Indian monsoon comes it is absolutely out of the question for the struggling climbers to accomplish the feat. The warm windstorm breaks up the icy face of the mountain, whirling clouds of snow and ice from the summit and makes the glaciers virtually impassable. Also it carries dust with it.

No one can tell just when it will arrive and if it puts in an untimely appearance it will defeat the second campaign of General Bruce. But if the explorers get the break of the luck and beat the monsoon it is believed that they will accomplish their aim.

General Bruce and his party in the expedition of two years ago left Darjeeling, India, on March 24 and marched to Tengboche Glacier where the base camp was established at an elevation of 16,500 feet. The real climb was begun on May 19 and by noon of the second day the party had reached a height of about 25,000 feet.

The cold was so intense that two members of the group of four that undertook the final effort were frostbitten, while a third was too ill to proceed. At 2:15 p. m. on May 21 the remaining three, led by Leigh Mulroney, reached the height of 26,800 feet and were then compelled to turn back.

A second attempt to reach the summit was begun by another party of four on May 24. On the first day it reached an elevation of 25,000 feet and camped on the North Col, or North Mountain, and on the second it had climbed to 26,500 feet, when a snowstorm and gale forced it to make camp.

George I. Finch, who was one of the party, in describing the experience said that a dead, numbing cold was creeping up my limbs—a thing I had only once before felt and to the seriousness of which I was fully alive. Like an inspiration came the thought of trying the effect of oxygen. We hauled the apparatus and cylinders into the tent, and, giving it the air of a joke, we took doses all around. The result was marvelous. We slept well and warmly.

On the following day three of the party succeeded in forcing their way up to the 27,300 level, where they were the nearest to the roof of the world that human beings have ever reached on foot. Exhausted by their struggles and weak from hunger they were forced to abandon their efforts to reach the peak. They were then taken to the base camp and rested for several days. On May 28 they reached the highest point attained by Abruzzi and 1,500 feet above Madison's record climb on Kamet in 1916.

On the descent from one of the upper camps to the base camp an avalanche overwhelmed one party and seven Gurkha porters lost their lives. Nevertheless General Bruce found it not at all difficult to get Durkhan for this year's expedition. Three of the Englishmen who accompanied him two years ago are with the General now and he has with him six men who are strangers to Everest, but all of whom are experienced mountain climbers.

Every possible preparation has been made to insure the success of the expedition and there is every prospect that the goal will be attained. Interest not alone to scientists, but to the general public as well. The Daint Lanna has now given permission for the expedition to enter the "Forbidden Land," where religious rites and ceremonies will be witnessed that have never before been seen by white men, but he has also consented to the taking of photographs and motion pictures, and to the making of gramophone records of the weird music that features the extraordinary performances.

Pictures may be brought back of these strange pilgrims who literally measure every foot of the 200 miles from Thassa to the Sacred Mountain with their prostrate bodies. They lie face down and mark with their finger nails the farther point to which they can reach, the mark and again prostrate themselves, and repeat this until the pilgrimage has been accomplished.

Then, too, there may be pictures of devil dances, with cemetery ghasts in horrible masks moving over the symbol of a corpse, and of the grand pageant of the gods.

Different in character, but quite as entralling in interest, will be the pictures taken during the final descent of the climb, if it is found possible to take them. A special motion picture camera not much larger than a billiard ball and run by clockwork has been devised for this attempt. No man could carry anything heavier. In the 1922 expedition the three men who attained the highest elevation were provided with vest-pocket radios, but so great was the strain they endured and so difficult was it to concentrate the mental faculties that only one snapshot was taken.

It is impossible at such heights to turn the crank of a motion picture camera by hand. In addition to devising a machine that would operate automatically, it was also necessary to overcome static. At such altitudes if you draw your finger along your sleeve you get a streak of electricity, and in an ordinary motion picture machine the friction of the moving film would set up sparks that would spoil the film.

In all, fourteen cameras were especially constructed for the expedition and the expense of the photographic end alone will approximate $100,000.

Important matters presented for consideration. Nothing since the passage of the 19th amendment has been more emphatically impressive or so entirely supporting the good judgment of the nation in giving woman the ballot.

Harlan Fiske Stone, attorney general, has started in to make his office a law office and not a political headquarters. The change has been disturbing to some of the political sharps in Washington.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

SPINACH.
Oh, the good old days of boyhood, they are gone forever more.
With their laughter and their shouting and the gung about the door;
Now the games we played are over, and the old school house is down,
And the years have built a city where there used to be a town.
But last night I caught a vision of a dining table neat
And a heaping dish of spinach which the mother made us eat.

Now I hold no love for spinach. In the days of long ago
And their endless round of pleasures, there was that one touch of woe,
Just one blench to the laughter which I would not live again.
Could I turn away from manhood and escape its care and pain;
Though I'd like to be a youngster, I'd not willingly
That springtime dish of spinach which the mother made us eat.

Well I know that it's a tonic, I've been told it off enough,
And a very wholesome diet, but I never liked the stuff.
And I used to squirm and sputter and the smile I would leave my face
Every time I saw my mother putting spinach All in vain were my excuses, I could never leave my seat.

'Till I'd finished up that spinach which the mother made me eat.
Now I hear his mother saying just what mother said to me:
'You must eat your dish of spinach if a strong boy you would be.'
And I hear him argue with her, and I chuckle as he mumbles and he grumbles just as I did long ago.
And I say unto his mother, as her pleading eyes I meet:
'You can lead a boy to spinach, but it's hard to make him eat.'

HOROSCOPE

MONDAY, MAY 5, 1924.

This is one of the rarely lucky days that dawn in a troubled world, according to astrology. The Sun and Mars in benefic aspect dominate during the hours of the day.

It is time to begin constructive work of every sort. Builders and contractors should benefit.

Honors for the Secretary of War and for American army officers are forecast.

The president of the United States should benefit from this configuration which indicates increased support for his policies.

All the signs appear to foretell extreme fluctuations of political sentiment among the people who may be greatly swayed by a sensational event late in the autumn.

Mars today gives good cheer to physicians, surgeons and dentists who will progress in their separate professions, owing to many new discoveries.

Structural iron workers are to have an unprecedented demand for their work, the seers foretell, and it would seem that much building will be carried on in various parts of the country.

This day should impart courage, energy and ambition to both men and women.
Whatever has to do with development in towns or cities is subject to good influences, Chicago being especially fortunate.

Let all who seek employment make the best of this day's opportunities, which promise much for those who follow trades as well as those who have professional training.

War is to be much discussed owing to peace movements of the most radical sort.
Another world conflict is prognosticated, despite all the advances in civilization and it may bring about the ultimate domination of a dark skinned race.

Persons whose birthday it is have the forecast of an active and successful year. If born in the afternoon or evening fate will be especially kind.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly ambitious and persevering. These subjects of Taurus are usually keen of mind and large of heart.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author.

THE LOW COST OF FLAVIN.
Far from being relaxation, riding in an automobile is a strain upon endurance, no matter what the make or type of car. The owner driver particularly feels that strain whether he admits it or not. Let him submit to a blood pressure test at the end of a ride of any considerable distance and the chances are that the pressure will be found elevated well above the normal.

Many a careful, law abiding driver speeds slowly to his doom, thanks to the low cost of driving. The automobile takes you out in the air gives you an appetite like a hired man. At the same time it gives you no exercise, robs you of the use of your arms, as the primary reason, say, lower extremities, commonly known as legs. Under such conditions you are pretty sure to bite off more than you can metabolize, and the excess of nutriment stores up trouble for the future.

Women are growing stouter and less attractive every day. Men are growing older and less vigorous every day. Middle age is getting to be a serious adventure. The degenerations—apoplexy, Bright's disease and heart disease—are increasing in frequency among mature adults. Prosperity is the reason—luxury doesn't act well on the hardy American constitution. We have not yet learned to harmonize our appetites with our metabolism. The automobile is shortening life.

The trouble is that the very people who need to have the equalizing, stabilizing influence of daily walking are the ones who can best afford automobiles. Working people, who might profit immeasurably from the open air life made possible by the automobile, can scarcely afford the time or gasoline, notwithstanding the low cost of the car. It is like baseball: The office or sedentary man who attends a game as a spectator, grows intensely excited and yells and mobs the umpire, and all that, is simply getting vicious, nervous, vicious recreation; the players are getting the actual benefit of the game, while the spectator gets only the nerve wracking excitement. Men must play the game to obtain actual benefit from it.

The advent of the automobile in the average household ought to be regarded with regret, for it is certain to rob the family of the degree of good health which has hitherto been insured by the use of legs. Auto intoxication, that great modern handicap, is powerfully opposed by the democratic, but now-a-days expensive, exercise of walking. Two miles of oxygen three times a day remains the peer of any prescription applicable to the universal self poisoning which initiates the degenerations of middle age—but never forget that the two miles must be taken on the hoof. "Carriage exercise" was all right in the old days of almanac and liver regulators. A ride on the car is merely a nervous strain, something to be looked upon as a more or less inevitable drawback about being alive.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Bromide.
Is it true that bromide takes the blood from the brain and causes paralysis? Why rub with alcohol if the skin doesn't absorb it? (M. T. Hrad.)
Answer.—No. Alcohol is used for bathing or rubbing, owing to its evaporation it is cooling to the skin (in fever, for instance), also it tends to harden the skin (for which reason it is rubbed on the back of bedridden patients to prevent bedsores). Bromide is absorbed by inhalation when it is applied near the face, and this must be kept in mind, for occasionally bromide is used in a manner which is not poisonous unless taken internally.

The Punctilious Teacher.
My daughter is in the fifth grade at school. The teacher has threatened to punish her for not doing her homework. Is there any danger for my daughter? (Mrs. S. L. J.)
Answer.—There is grave danger for every pupil in the room. You should complain to the health department, if the teacher has taken pupils.

For five years I have gone without breakfast because I saw no good reason for eating it. I find I can get on mentally work in the morning without breakfast and have noticed the harmful effects. In fact I imagine I feel better, especially since I eat no more at lunch or dinner than before. Can you tell me whether any detrimental effect is likely to follow? (L. W. P.)

Answer.—Positively and absolutely not. In fact your plan might be a healthful one for thousands of overfed, sluggish, indigestible, and coffee is so good one hates to skip breakfast. Come to think of it, I have been skipping breakfast for several years myself, and it does me good.

Q. How can a pneumonia be cleaned? C. E. R.

A. A mixture of three parts benzene to one part magnesia, applied with a small brush, is a successful cleaner for pneumonia. Rubbing with soap and water is also effective, rinsing and wiping each small area as washed.

Q. How many penitentiaries of Revolution, were of 1912 and civil war are now on the pension books? W. C.

A. There are no penitentiaries of the Revolutionary war now living. On the pension rolls are 40 widows of veterans of war of 1812, 49 soldiers of the Mexican war, and 1,638 widows, 168, 623 civil war veterans and 24,580 widows; 3,925 soldiers of Indian wars, and 2,828 widows.

Q. What does a "straw vote" mean? E. C.

A. There is an old saying "Straw shows which way the wind blows," meaning that a small thing may indicate a larger one. A straw vote is a vote, therefore, entirely G. official and taken by an individual or corporation, often shows which way an official vote will go.

Q. I would like to know what the operation of an oil well will cost to the depth of about 5,000 feet. J. F. W.

A. The bureau of mines says the cost of operation of oil wells varies widely in different parts of the country. In California the cost is estimated at from $15 to $20 per foot. In the mid-continent fields the cost varies from $15 to $25 per foot. In Kentucky, from $15 to $25 per foot.

Q. What is heliotropism as applied to plants? R. P.

A. Heliotropism is the term used to explain why plants grow upward. It is the response of certain growing organs to the stimulus of sunlight by movements or curvatures. It may be positive, as in the case of erect stems, or negative, as in roots.

Q. How can necrosis be painted as you can see the street, but these in passing cannot see it? D. O. L.

A. It is well to put your screens with black paint thinned sufficiently with turpentine so that the paint will not clog the screens, you will find that it is difficult although not impossible for a person on the street to see into a room, except when the room is lighted.

It was a tough blow, but Coach Gibson took it in his usual dignified manner. The disqualification of Austin of Janesville for a violation of the rules when he went out of his lane in running the 220-yard low hurdles cost the Blues a sure first in that event. Austin led the field by five yards and could never have been headed. Coming around a turn, he hit the hurdle with his feet, but went over it, but when he came down he took three steps in the next lane. Though he corrected his error immediately, the judges ruled him out and five points were lost by Janesville.

Busy Man's Sport Page

HERE it comes, the first weekly statistical review of the 1921 season in the major leagues and the American association. Each Saturday for the balance of baseball time this year, this column will carry the dope, based upon figures from the Associated Press. Outstanding perhaps is the fact that Babe Ruth has put quibbling, is down to form and with five home runs is ahead of his record-breaking pace of 1920 when he made 59. In the National league, and runner up to Ruth, Grantham of the Cubs has four circuit slushes to his record, while in the American association, "Red" Killebrew of Columbus is topping all-comers with four. Another of the big features of the past week, was the comeback of George Siler, star of 1920 who was out last year because of trouble with his eyes. Siler, manager of the St. Louis Browns, has a batting average of .355, has scored 10 runs and has made 21 hits including four doubles and a pair of triples.

THE BATTING RACE in the major league is topped by good old names—Hollman, Cobb, Hornsby and Siler. Hollman is paving the way with 468 and continues his place as American league champion. The Cobb of the same team, the Tigers, is second with 434. Hollman is going big with 22 hits in 13 games. Hornsby, batting champion of the National league, is leading the senior loop with 425 with Zach Wheat of Brooklyn on his heels with 390. Bunny Brier of Kansas City is once again looking back at the others in the American association, topping with 466 with Davis of Columbus second with 417 and Russell of Columbus third with 404.

IN THE SPECIALTY line, Eddie Collins of the White Sox is out there leading in base stealing with four thefts in the American league, but in the National Max Carey of the Pirates is blazing the trail with five. However, in the American association Neum of St. Paul is leading with seven steals. Ty Cobb leads the American league in scoring with the work of having crossed the 100 mark. Grant Sumner of the Cubs has scored 12 times. Russell of Columbus in the American association has scored 12 times.

Harvard defeated Columbia, 2-1, and Pennsylvania, 6-2, while Dartmouth beat Columbia, 8-1, in eastern collegiate golf.

Lee Nunes won national golf fencing title by defeating Francis O'Connor after they had tied for first place.

James O. Anderson will not play with Australian Davis tennis team.

Blacker holding 2,000 collapses at Galveston high school games, but no one was hurt seriously.

DIAMOND SPARKLES.

Chicago went into triple tie with New York and Detroit for American league leadership Friday, by defeating Cleveland, 2-2, while Yankees lost to Washington and St. Louis beat Tigers. Indians dropped to cellar.

Giants, popping out of 12-inning struggle, 7-4, at Boston, with 11 consecutive victories and 11th win in last 12 games, enjoy three game lead in National over Cincinnati, who beat Chicago 4-3, and sent Cubs back to third. Yankees, defeated 3-2, and moved into first division.

McGraw triumphed over former pupil, Jannerott. Seven pitchers and five pinch hitters included in 51 players used. In 12th inning McGraw evaded winning combination of four hits, walk and sacrifice. The White Sox victory was one of four in which winning team made fewer hits. Their five hits and Cleveland's two and two were errors by Joe Sewell. McGraw, Yankee captain, rebounded former mutes 6-4 when Rice hit homer in ninth with Judge on base. When Williams tripled, McGraw was responsible for second victory in two days over Detroit, 4-1. Cincinnati won battle for second with Cubs, 4-3, by hitting behind Scheen's splendid pitching. Babe's two home runs and Hargrove's circuit smash scored three of four Red runs. Although Cardinals outpitched Pirates, 10-5, latter won when Couper singled McGraw home after batter had tripped in ninth. Hornsby out of game with injured hand. Hubbell and Yarbrough pitched duel at Brooklyn until final innings, when both were hit. Philadelphia winning, 7-6, although outlasted 12 to 5. Chicago held Athletics to three hits while Red Sox made 12 hits of three Philadelphia pitchers and won, 11-0.

Hand pitcher, released to Los Angeles by Cubs, Frank Chance, who batted over reins to Johnny Rivers as manager of Sox, goes to Palm Springs Cal. for health. Indians, of Indians, induced in collision with sheets of White Sox. Amos Strunk, who broke in with Philadelphia Athletics many years ago and played utility role in White Sox, for some time, is again back with Connie Mack, as utility man and pinch hitter.

Rosters Approved for All Outfits of Southern Loop

The Southern Wisconsin baseball league is ready for action and set to start the 1921 season on Sunday, May 11—just a week away. Directors of the organization met in the Gazette editorial room Friday night and cleaned up the last bit of paper work preparatory to the opening games.

The playing roster of each team was approved. Some variations in policy were made for the good of the organization, although the sense of the rules was followed. Notable among the actions taken was permission to Cambridge to use John Glumke of Norwalk, Wis. in the catching department. Glumke is moving his family to Cambridge to accept a position and to make that town his permanent home. Permission to use him was given by a vote of the board of directors by special dispensation in order to give Cambridge a better balanced team, yet not losing sight of the home talent idea. Cambridge was also allowed to use Heinrich, Lake Mills, nine miles distant.

Kakuske for Milton. Janesville was given permission to use Leo (Red) Langford, who played for the Racine team, who played last year. Milton was allowed to have Outfielder Herbert Kakuske of Janesville, who, the professional "miller" came in and killed the national game in that city. The American League is now ruling to encourage to put it back upon its feet. Kakuske will be placed north of the city. A diamond is now being skinned and laid out. There will be the usual backstops and screening. Bleachers will be constructed.

The Broadhead boys are expecting good support from their townpeople and the surrounding section. John Woodring has been selected to manage the organization and will also be playing captain. Neillide, a recent high school graduate, one of the Anderson boys and Hyner will be tried out as pitchers. All are young lads. M. Hartman will catch, with his brother, Bill, as substitute backstop.

New white suits with black stripes have been presented for the Broadhead club. They will be trimmed in blue. Socks will be white ankle and blue uppers. The caps will be blue.

Cambridge Girl Park. Cambridge goes into new quarters this season. The town has just purchased 23 acres of ground for a community park, with 500 feet of frontage on Lake Mendota. It is in this park that a new diamond will be constructed that is expected to equal the classy outfit at Waterloo. It will have a natural amphitheater for the spectators on three sides, which will be screened off.

In the Cambridge park there will be bath houses, a dance pavilion and big playground for the children. The park is located a half mile from town.

Cambridge will be out on Sunday for practice. Ray Kisor has been named manager, with a captain yet to be selected.

DARKNESS—AND THE END

HE DROPPED JACK JOHNSON WHO LATER BECAME HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION

IN HIS LAST FIGHT WITH MOVEY LANGFORD WON BY A KNOCKOUT

There is passing into oblivion one of the greatest colored fighters of the time. He is hitting the long head club. He will be buried in a record of activity and achievement that should have made him champion two or three times over.

The man is Sam Langford. Down and out financially and approaching blindness, Langford is a tragic, pitiful figure. Friends are trying to raise funds to enable him to save what vision he now has.

The younger generation of fans think of Langford mainly as opponent to Sam McVey or Joe Jeanette. Sam was away past his prime when these fighters started, however, older fans recall the Langford of the shifty feet, the mighty shoulders and the bone-crushing punch—that made many of the best white fighters sidestep invitations.

Few fighters have boasted the grace Sam had in his prime. He worked with little but motion and energy. At times he seemed to be stalling, but all the while he kept boxing in. There was a calm, calculating method in his campaign that spelled disaster for his opponent.

The following victims of his knockout swiftness are cited as evidence:

Harry Williams (twice), Joe Jeanette, Jim Flynn (twice), Jack O'Brien, Sam McVey, Gunboat Smith (anybody ever call him Gunboat?), Tony Russ, Jimmy Barry, Bill Tate, "Black Fitzsimmons," Kid Norfolk.

"TWO ARMS!" IS SLOGAN OF SLEEVELESS GOWNS

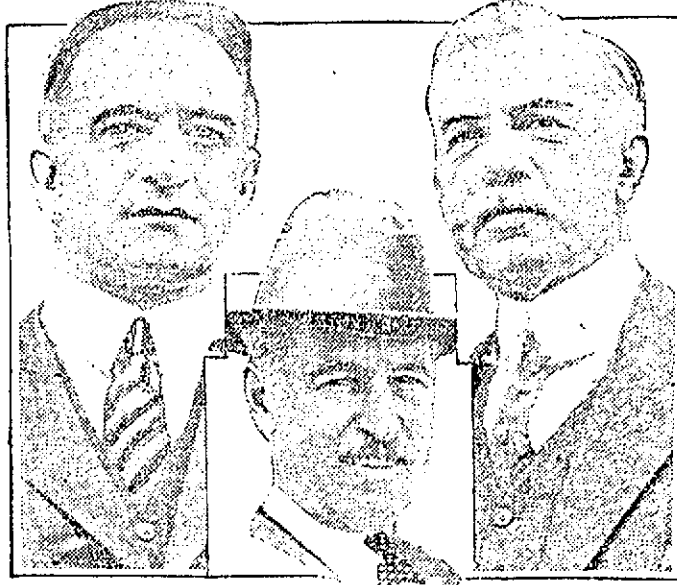

"Two arms, two arms, we brave!" must surely be the rallying cry of the hosts of fashion. The Fair Woman responds by baring her arms on every occasion.

On the left of the illustration an afternoon frock of black satin crepe is sleeveless. It is trimmed on the bodice with insets of ecru embroidery. A two piece suit of green tulle, shown on the right, has mere apologies for sleeves, and the evening gown in the center of orchid satin trimmed with silk fringe is likewise sans sleeves.

BID OF BIG THREE STUMBLING BLOCK IN TRANSFER OF SHOALS TO HENRY FORD

A big argument being used by opponents of acceptance of Henry Ford's bid for Muscle Shoals is the offer made by Elton H. Hooker, owner of an electro-chemical company at Niagara Falls; J. G. White, a big chemical manufacturer, and W. W. Atterbury, operative head of the Pennsylvania railroad system, to function as an operating company for the government in the operation of the Muscle Shoals project. They estimate the government's returns in 50 years at $305,000,000, whereas Ford offers only $91,000,000.

GREECE'S NEW REPUBLICAN REGIME SLOWLY GETTING UP ON ITS FEET

General Pangalos (left) and on the upper step with him, M. Roussos; in front, M. Papanastasiou.

A new regime in Greece is slowly getting on its feet after an upheaval in which the Glucksburg dynasty of kings was deposed forever, and a republic set up. Three men taking leading roles in the affairs of the Hellenic state are George Roussos, the premier; General Pangalos, minister of security, and M. Papanastasiou, president of the council.

The biggest treaty conference of the year was convened when representatives of Soviet Russia and of the English government met in London to negotiate a trade treaty, and in the words of Premier MacDonald of Britain, "to liquidate the past and bring about peaceful relations in the future."

The delegates of Russia were Christian Rakovsky, charge d'affaires in London and chief negotiator; Preobrazhensky, assistant commissar of finance; Tomsky, chairman of the soviet trade union; Khidgr-Alieff, the Turkistan delegate, and Koutouff, of Textile workers' union, and Kachchinko. Women were in the Russian party and two of them loaned valuable aid to the parley. They were Mlle. Ostronmova and Mme. Malstoffs, secretaries to the delegation.

The Duchess of Oporto (Nevada Steady.)

The "Ten Million Dollar Widow" has won again. The will of Albert Lee Agnew, the first husband of Nevada Steady, now the Duchess of Oporto, leaves her a million dollars. He was uninfluenced in his devotion to her by the fact that she had remarried three times since her divorce from him. Nevada Steady, once an obscure Western girl, became the Duchess of Oporto, by marrying the 51-year-old Dom Alfonso in 1917. Her second marriage was to William Hayes Chapman, 73-year-old millionaire. Her third was with Philip Van Valkenburg, New York banker.

HAVANA IN THROES OF YOUNG REVOLUTION

Havana is in the throes of a young revolution following the calling of a strike by stevedores working on the docks, a strike that has spread through the city and threatens to envelop the entire republic. Martial law has been declared and soldiers and marines are everywhere. At the same time trouble is on foot aimed at the security of Dr. Alfredo Zayas, president of the republic. Following the walk-out of the stevedores, street car men quit work. Then the taxi-drivers quit. Followed drivers of beer wagons, ice wagons and bakers. Other crafts are taking similar action. The situation is looked upon as the most serious Cuba has had to face since the Spanish-American war.

Miss Elizabeth Marbury.

In Democratic circles there is a well defined supposition that prominent women in the party will make a determined effort to have a woman chosen as vice presidential candidate, and that Miss Elizabeth Marbury of New York is the woman they want named. Miss Marbury, a New Yorker, is a member of the Democratic national committee and is the moving spirit in the arrangements for the reception of women delegates to the national convention in New York.

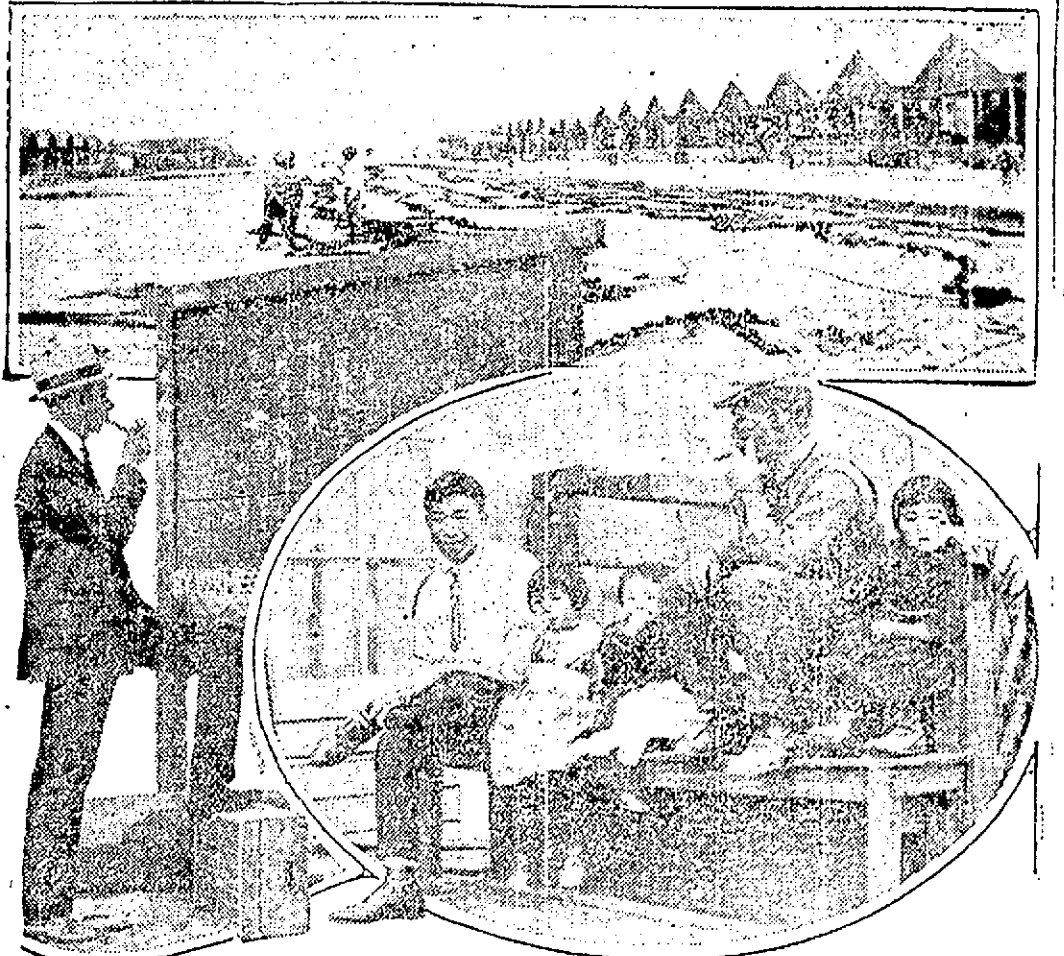

New river shipping terminal at Cairo, Ill., (above) and (below) a steamer handling 15,000 tons of cotton at Cairo—a load equal to five full freight trains. The tow covers two and a half acres.

For the first time in many years railroads are faced by serious water competition in the Mississippi valley. That they realize its import is evidenced by the fact that they are now taking steps to co-ordinate rail and water freight service where possible. Seven-day service is now promised for freight shipments by water between Chicago and New Orleans. Shippers say this is faster than the railroads have been moving freight between the two points, while the water route carries a 25 per cent less tariff. One of the old river cities whose ports are reviving under the new impetus given water traffic is Cairo, Ill. Here, as well as at other points, terminal facilities have been greatly improved in late years.

ONE SOURCE OF ANTI-JAPANESE AGITATION IN U. S.

The type of houses occupied by Japanese fishermen (above), a Japanese billboard is one of the fishing villages of Southern California (left), and (right) types of Japanese men and children engaged in the industry.

One source of the agitation the Japanese influx into California which led to the exclusion of Nipponese nationals in the immigration bill passed by congress, is seen in the strange motif obtained by the Japanese on the fishing industry in Southern California.

In federal investigations of sea activities of aliens, it was found that Japanese controlled 90 per cent of the fishing vessels operating on the coast, mostly power vessels. Incidentally, it is charged that salvagers of this country are taken to smuggle in country.

Complaints were found in the fact that the standard of living of the Japanese immigrants, much lower than that of the Americans, and the fact that they use their large families of children in their industries competitors of American competitors of business.

MOTORIST'S

Carburetor Troubles and How to Prevent Them

The modern automobile is practically trouble proof and will rarely give any trouble at all if it is given a little care and attention at the proper time.

Most automobile owners drive up to the filling station and trust to the strainers on the filling station pump to prevent any water or dirt entering the gasoline tank. It is almost impossible, however, to prevent a certain amount of dirt and water getting into the tank, even although the gasoline is carefully strained. The car manufacturers recognize this, and provide drain plugs and strainers at various points to trap the sediment and prevent it reaching the carburetor where it can cause lots of trouble. Even with these precautions, however, it is a fact that water and dirt do sometimes get through these screens and cause trouble.

If you are unlucky enough to get some water in the carburetor, your experience will be something like this—You may be driving along the road when all at once your engine will stop firing for a few seconds then suddenly start again, and at the same moment you may hear a violent explosion in the muffler. You stop and look around but apparently find nothing wrong and start off, when the same thing happens again, or the engine may stop altogether. Now if you ever do have this experience, you can blame no one but yourself, for this kind of trouble can be avoided very easily by cleaning and draining out the gasoline system three or four times a year.

If dirt or grit gets into the gasoline, it may put the vacuum tank out of order or cause trouble in the carburetor. Suppose you are driving along the road, then all at once the engine starts to misfire and you hear the carburetor popping back. The trouble may be due to a small particle of grit in the jet of the carburetor. If a piece of grit the size of a pin head gets into the jet it will block it up completely and cause the engine to stop altogether.

I have given you just a few of the troubles you may have if you do not clean out the gasoline system now and again. It is not a difficult operation, and should not take more than half an hour on the average car.

Start at the gasoline tank. First, remove the filler cap and examine the hole in it. If this gets blocked up, a vacuum will be created as the gasoline is drawn out of the tank and it will be impossible to draw any gasoline out of the tank even although it is half full of gasoline. Make sure therefore, that the hole is clear.

Next take out the drain plug or open up the sediment trap at the bottom of the tank and draw off about half a pint of gasoline. This will remove any sediment or water that may have collected at this point.

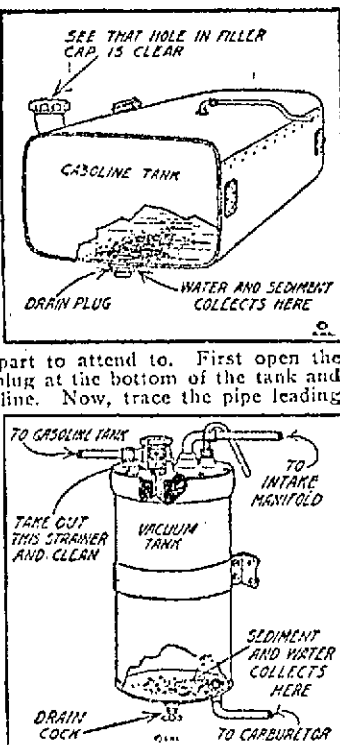

The Vacuum Tank is the next part to attend to. First open the drain cock or screw out the drain plug at the bottom of the tank and draw off about half a pint of gasoline. Now, trace the pipe leading from the tank at the rear to the top of the vacuum tank. Unscrew the connection here and disconnect the pipe from the vacuum tank. Now, unscrew the fitting in the vacuum tank to which the pipe was attached and you will find a strainer. See that it is clear.

When you have replaced the strainer and gasoline pipe, test to see that all connections are tight. Now we come to the carburetor. BE CAREFUL. Whatever you do, DO NOT alter any adjustments until you thoroughly understand what you are doing. Most carburetors have a strainer where the gasoline enters the carburetor. If there is one fitted on the carburetor to your engine, take it out and see that it is clear.

Just a word about connections. When replacing any connection, be very careful to see that you do not cross thread it or draw it up too tight, or it will leak. If you find the connection is difficult to turn after you have screwed it up once or twice, unscrew and make certain that the threads are not crossed.

If you have cleaned out the gasoline system as described, the gasoline will flow through to the carburetor freely and everything is ready to adjust and tune up the carburetor itself. This operation will be described in detail next week.

Things Worth Knowing About Real Balloon Tires

With but half the usual air pressure, these tires are very soft and yielding. They absorb the holes, ruts and bumps in the road. They cushion the car and passengers from shocks and vibration.

Having double the road contact, Firestone Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords afford better traction, quicker stopping and minimize skidding. Control of wheel and brake is improved to a degree never before experienced.

Where the Money Goes in Poor Relief and Lax Methods in Vogue

The poor laws of Wisconsin provide that only persons who have resided in the county for one year are eligible to aid. Emergency aid may, however, be extended, in case sickness, accident or destitution of transients. Such aid is chargeable against the county in which the person aided is a legal resident.

A person cannot establish legal residence under the poor laws if public relief is extended before such person has lived in the county a full year. In 1923, however, emergency aid was extended to a person who had lived for one year in the county without becoming a legal resident there, as far as poor relief is concerned. But having lived in the county one year without becoming a public charge, a person may move to another county the day following, live there 241 days, require aid on the day after and such aid is extended to it chargeable back to the county from which the person moved.

Paid to Dane County.
Rock county has during the last year paid to Dane county the sum of $1,655.56 to cover relief extended to a family that lived 22 days of having established a new residence in that county. It is possible for the poor commissioners or other administrators of poor relief to notify similar officials in another county that bills for relief aid will not be paid in behalf of a designated individual or family unless such person return to this county, and such action was taken with the last few months by Green county commissioners with reference to a family that had moved to this county and had because of illness and other misfortune required aid amounting to $174.

What About This?
Why were not Dane county officials served notice to this effect, after the passage of the northern district bill of 1923? The 1923 bill was $227.50 in 1923. The 1924 bill was $227.50 for this family. Why should a family who lived in Rock county during any of this time, would Dane county officials extend aid with such liberality to a family who lived in another county, and would they continue to pay bills of such size if presented to them for aid extended by this county to a family whose legal residence under the poor laws might be in Dane county?

Rules for Poor Relief.
The county board has authority to adopt rules governing the care of the poor and administration of poor relief. The following rules were adopted Nov. 10, 1923 and are still in effect:
Article I—Rock county is hereby divided into three superintendent districts.

The first district shall comprise the townships of Rock, Janesville, and be under the care and supervision of the superintendent of the county farm. The superintendent shall receive and care for all inmates who are committed to the county.

The second district shall comprise the cities of Janesville, Edgemoor, Portageville, Villages of Milton and Okauchie, the townships of Union, Porter, Fulton, Lima, Johnston, Harmony, Janesville, Center, Macdonald, and the north half of towns of Spring Valley, North, Rock, La Prairie and Bradford.

The third district shall be under the supervision of a superintendent of poor to be elected by the county board and the salaries of each shall be fixed by the county board by resolution prior to the election and shall not be changed during the term for which they are elected except that the first district shall be under the care of the superintendent of the county farm and he shall serve without salary. All applications for relief shall be made to one of the district superintendents, who shall inquire into the circumstances of the applicant, ascertain his or her place of birth, age, occupation, length of residence in this county, health and character of previous residence, and the names and places of residence of his or her relatives, if any. And if the said superintendent shall find that the applicant is entitled to support or relief according to law, he shall grant relief.

When the applicant for relief can be removed or sent to a poor house of the district, the superintendent shall send or remove or cause to be removed said applicant to the said poor house. And when the superintendent of any district shall receive an applicant to be removed to the poor house he shall thereupon take immediate charge of all the property and effects of the applicant and make an inventory of same, which he shall certify to be correct, which inventory and property shall be reported to the county board.

Article II—Each of the said district superintendents shall report in detail to the county board at the January session all transactions pertaining to the care of the poor of Rock county for the preceding year.

Article III—Should a district superintendent of poor fail to perform his duty as required, he shall be removed from office by the county board and another superintendent appointed to fill his place. The term of office of a district superintendent shall be three years, from the first Monday in January next, succeeding his election.

Article IV—The superintendent of the first district shall make a record of the age, place of birth, occupation, length of residence in the county, names and places of residence of relatives of applicant, if they are known, of all persons committed to his care, which shall be kept in a book provided for that purpose at the poor house. Said record shall record the date of admission, date of discharge by death or otherwise of every person committed into the poor house and such other matters as may seem wise or necessary, to make a complete record. (This article refers to the county home and asylum.)

Article V—The county board may only be determined by the board of poor relief that is filed with the county clerk and published in the proceedings. The 1923 poor list as filed includes 25 Janesville individuals as families for whom relief was provided, and who have received the relief, and names of other means of identification are not given. The other 25 beneficiaries have first names at the only clue to identification. Many of the names do not appear in the city directory and in many instances identification is impossible because the directory shows two persons having at different addresses, and the last name of the person who appears on the poor list, Helen, is the number for whom no means of identification have been received, and names who have received the relief, and names of other means of identification are not given. The other 25 beneficiaries have first names at the only clue to identification. Report in Herby Joke.
Just what the county board regards as a "report in detail" can only be determined by the board of poor relief that is filed with the county clerk and published in the proceedings. The 1923 poor list as filed includes 25 Janesville individuals as families for whom relief was provided, and who have received the relief, and names of other means of identification are not given. Princess Ileana.

WHAT AND WHERE IS THIS ROCK COUNTY MARVEL?

Somewhere in Rock county this picture was taken by a traveler passing by. Have you ever seen it before? Perhaps, many times. It is a strange contribution of nature, and it is the only one of its kind in the county. It is a picture of a man, a traveler, standing in a field. He is wearing a hat and a long coat, and is looking towards the camera. The background is a simple, open landscape.

The Heavens in May

By DR. C. S. BRAININ
Of the Columbia University Observatory Staff.

The most interesting astronomical phenomenon for the month of May is a transit of the planet Mercury across the disk of the sun. A transit is really a kind of eclipse, for the planet moves in between the earth and the sun, but because of its small size and great distance from the earth, the resulting phenomenon is only that of a small dark speck moving across the brilliant solar surface. The unaided eye can not discern its passage, but small telescopes with a solar eye-piece will serve for the observation.

The entire phenomenon will last about eight hours, but only the beginning of it will be visible from the United States and Canada, as the sun sets with Mercury still on it. The entire phenomenon will be visible only to inhabitants of the extreme northwestern part of America and of lands lying in and along the western part of the Pacific Ocean.

The date of the transit is the seventh and the time of first contact is 4:02 p. m. for those living in the eastern standard time zone. It is one hour earlier by the clock in the central belt, two hours earlier in the Rocky Mountain belt and three hours earlier along the Pacific coast. At Nome in Alaska and in Manila the transit, or last contact, will also be visible at a time when Eastern standard clocks will be saying 12:29 a. m.

The only planets which can take part in a transit are Venus and Mercury, for these two alone have orbits which lie closer to the sun than that of the earth. Mercury lies closest to the sun. For a transit to occur the planet must be able to pass in between us and the sun. The planet which contains the orbit of Mercury makes an angle of about seven degrees with the plane containing the orbit of the earth, or ecliptic plane. As a result, we do not have a transit every time the planet is in a general way between us and the sun, but only when the three bodies are in what is very nearly a straight line. When one of these two planets passes between the earth and the sun, it is in the ecliptic plane, and a straight line from the sun through these points touches the earth's orbit. You can draw a simple diagram for yourself which will make this relationship quite clear.

If Mercury is at one of its nodes at the same time that it is in inferior conjunction, then a transit will take place. The earth is in inferior position twice a year, May 7 and November 9, but, of course, Mercury's position on those dates will only rarely be favorable. Transits are more frequent than these in May. The total number of transits for this century is twelve, and only three of these are for May. Transits of Venus are, however, very much rarer; the last one was in 1882 and the next one is scheduled for 2004.

Permanent Home Owners Promote Industrial Contentment

-and Are Most Valued Citizens--

RELIABLE, DEPENDABLE and CONSISTENT

Take that house in which you now live and for which you pay rent that seems to be constantly increasing in amount. Suppose that eleven years and two months ago you had invested a small amount in its purchase, letting your rent payments go toward the price of home ownership, you would now be the proud owner of the lot and improvements instead of simply being privileged to retain it at a monthly rental.

Now, let's analyze these monthly expenditures and compare renting with buying:

$55.00 per month paid out in RENT for 11 years and 2 months amounts to $7270.00 and represents a total loss—While, monthly payments of $55.00 for the same length of time, applied as follows, results in a $5000.00 Home of Your Own:

YEARS	INTEREST	APPLIED ON HOME	BALANCE UNPAID
1	$350.00	$310.00	$4,690.00
2	328.30	331.70	4,358.30
3	305.10	354.90	4,003.40
4	280.25	379.75	3,623.65
5	253.65	406.35	3,217.30
6	225.25	434.75	2,782.55
7	194.80	465.20	2,317.35

PERMANENT HOME OWNERS

INDUSTRIAL CONTENTMENT

RAY SHUMAN.
© FLOYD A. DERNIER.

Just refer to any section of the country where business is booming and where strikes are rare, where the workmen are happy and contented and where children are growing up with rosy faces and strong bodies and minds—and you will find the secret to be PERMANENT HOME OWNERSHIP.

When a man quits paying rent and begins to make payments on his own home he has laid the foundation of future success and happiness for himself and his family.

Rent paying leads to discontentment, discouragement, creates dissatisfaction and want in old age; buying or building your own home means eventual ease and comfort and assures protection for the years to come.
